Gronge king, bruised and burned about the face and hands.

To add to the casualties and the confusion, Maj. Hughes, Chief of the Fire Department, was so badly hurt in an accident early this morning that he may not recover. He and Henry Weatherford, the Chief's assistant, started up Market street to what seemed a big fire. They happened to get on the wrong side of the street, as Maj. Hughes himself states. The Salvage Corps wagon ran into their buggy as they were rapidly driving up the north side of the street and almost literally ran over them. The buggy was sunshed and the horses tramped on both Chief Hughes and Weatherford. The latter's wrist was badly hurt but when the Chief called out for help and that he was badly hurt, Weatherford was able to go to his assistance. Maj. Hughes has taken to his bed, and doctors fear trouble on account of erysipelas. Weatherford, with a badlylam-aged and much bandaged hand, was able to be at the 8 o'clock fire.

Going to the first he No.18 engine ran into the pavement at Twelfth and Broadway, throwning off Engineer Nuttall, hurtins his back and probably crippling him for life. He was taken to his home. Broadway, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth.

Pat Sheet, a Member of the Hook and Ladler Co., was at work on the building occupied by Frank A. Menne & Co. He started to all, but grabbed at the broken skylight. He saved himself from a probably fatal plunge, but nearly severed his hand from his arm at the wrist.

Some of those who escaped did so by leaping from the rear fourth-story windows onte the rear of the roof of the store, the store being only two stories in the back.

The fire is supposed to have arisen from one of the candy furnaces, which, possibly, exploded. At any rate, the flames communicated with the new and big stock of Christmas flreworks. cated with the new and big stock of Christmass fireworks.

The first explosion among the fireworks scattered the fire brands in the shape of Christmas fireworks all over the store. The skylight fell in, and the entire stock, much of which was highly inflammable, was fiercely blazing almost immediately. The sky rockets, roman candles and giant fire crackers were so wild in their havoc that they impeded the work of the firemen, and made it exceedingly dangerous for them to work until the last one exploded.

The five bodies taken out are so charred and blackened that identification is so far impossible.

Great confusion exists. Main street, where the principal wholesale traffic of the city goes on, is blockaded and the business almost at a stand-still.

The loss on Menne & Co.'s building and stock is placed at $75,000 and the total loss will be nearly three-quarters of a million.

When I reflect on the seriousness of this charge I am almost overwhelmed with a sense of the responsibility which in part devolves on me. I shall rely on your intelligence, on your sense of right and justice to supply any omissions I may make. We do not come before you with any unreasonable theories, but with the truth. We cannot boast that we have a millionaire on our side. You are doubtless anxious to hear our answer to the charge brought against us, when you have heard our statement and the testimony you will see that there are two sides. If there was a bottle of poisoned whisky sent, I say the man who sent it was more than a coward. He was a hellhound and one who should be burned at the stake. This is merely a statement and not an argument. The prosecution makes the first statement, because the burden of proof is upon it. "It has always been my favorite," responded the Commssioner, "but until lately the property owners haven't agreed with me. They are beginning to change their minds now, and are asking for asphalt."
There is more than mere fanciful vaciliation in this change of front by the people who have to pay for paving the streets and are being allowed to choose their own material. Some

The house and land owners of the city are law that the Assembly made last month. The members of the Assembly passed it indifferently, as they do most of the legislation suggested by the Health Department, and it excited no interest about any of the offices. It transpires now that the bill was put through by Charles F. Francis, the Chief Sanitary Officer, and will change entirely the methods of the city in dealing with great public nuisances such as the great stagnant ponds of North St. Louis. Hitherto when an owner was ordered to abate a nuisance the Board of Health had to take him into court if he failed to do it. That was tedious and unsatisfactory, and often the process entirely failed of its object. Besides this, if the owner of the property on which the nuisance was did not live here, the board had no way to force him to attend to its demand. The charter gave the Board of Health the power to remove the nuisances at the expense of the property owners. The Board of Health wanted to try this when Col. Henry Flad was at the head of the Board of Public Improvements, but City Counselor Leverett Bel told him that the charter provision was illegal, and the Colonel would not approve of the step.

illegal, and the Colonel would not approve of the step.
When City Counselor W. C. Marshall came in, Inspector Francis consulted him. Counselor Marshall antagonized Counselor Bell's opinion at once, and said the charter was correct in that respect. Upon that Inspector Francis got up the bill, and passed it. Naturally he feels somewhat elated, as his department has much more power than it had if the owners of property now will not fill up ponds or abate other nuisances, when ordered to do so by the Board of Health, whether they live here or not, men will be sent by the Board to do the work, and special tax bills will be issued against the property. A LESSON IN SKATING.

How Wolves Taught a Boy to "Cut the Every winter when I go past the wolve den in Central Park Zoo on my way to the skating lake I cannot, help thinking how those flerce beasts once gave me my severest lesson in skating. It was away up in the northern part of Wisconsin, one bleak December day, I went out to a friend's house some a lake, and there had as yet been no snow, which everybody knows spoils the ice. CHINESE EMBROIDERY. Curious Stitch With Which Charming Designs May Be Worked.

Chinese embroidery is curious and interest-ing work. The materials which are necessary for it are pale-colored satin for the foundation, Chinese gold-thread, and cordonnet

The satin is stretched over an en broidery frame, and the design stamped or sketched upon it, when a piece of heavy mussatin, to prevent the surface from drawingsatin, to prevent the surface from drawingwhen the finished work is taken out of the frame. The design is then outlined with the gold thread which is fastened down with fine stitches of corresponding slik, so that they are invisible. When this is done the filling in commences, for which the Chinese knot stitch is used.

This stitch is made in the following manner: The slik is carried from underneath to the top, and is wound around the needle. The needle is then passed through the satin half-ways down its length and in a vertical position, so that the silk can be tightened by the left hand to lay close around the needle. To finish the knot, the needle is pushed all the way through the foundation, and the thread tightened.

Three shades of one color of the silk are necessary, the darkest tint for the lower end of the design, growing gradually lighter toward the edges.

At first the knots are placed close together, but toward the edges small intervals are left which are filled out with the next light shade in order to bring about a happy blending of the colors. The number of rows of knots to be made depends upon the size of the figure. The choice of colors for the accompanying model are: Fraize for the three center flowers, dark blue for the buds and olive for the stem and the outer leaves. These colors must of course be procured in their three successive tints.

Many beautiful holiday gifts can be made with the Chinese knot embroidery.

EARS AND NOSES OF ALUMINUM.

They Are Made to Order in Boston and Dozens of Them.

From the Boston Heraid.

The accidents and diseases to which the nasal and other organs are liable are much more numerous than the ordinary thinker supposes, and the number of people to be met with who are wearing false ears or noses, without the knowledge of any but their most intimate friends, would prove quite surprising if it could be made known.

The old manner of attaching false noses to the face was by means of eye glasses, and the substances used were either wax, celluloid, wood, porcelain or vulcanite. The last mentioned substance was mostly in favor because of its lightness, strength and small liability to injury. After being vulcanized the plece was painted by an artist in oil colors as near the color of the skin of the intended werer as it was possible to get it. Of course the great objection was the wearing of the glasses. Few persons cared to injure their organs of vision even to cover up a facial deformity. Springs had been tried, but were not in general use up to within a very short period, owing to the supposition that they would interfere with circulation or cause irritation resulting in infiammation or absorption of the tissues. The bone in the nose is most sensitive, and nee disease has touched it decay is rapid. Nearly all dental works give examples of cases that have been treated with more or less success at different periods, some of the best known being those performed by Dr. Hoopes in 1860; Dr. Brackett of Newport, R. I., in 1874, and Prof. Wildman in 1863.

All the old methods have been superseded by a Boston dentist, who has invented a new system of springs by which not only a whole nose or ear may be attached to the head and face and be passed on the street without detection by the ordinary pedestrian, but any small portion of either may be affixed in the same manner. In a chat with a Heraid reporter about the matter at all. A friend of mine had lost his nose through an ulcerated tooth, and asked me to try and make him one. I gave much time to the matter and finally not in this city now, and the people where he now resides would not believe it if told that he was wearing a faise one.

'I next experimented on making an ear, and remember that my first patient was a young man whose folks had lived in the country when he was an infant, where one day an older sister carried him out into a field and left him to play, when a hog came along and got in a little playful sport by chewing off one of the baby sears. This ear proved an entire success, and I had applications for others. The next applicant for an ear had had one bitten off in a street row, and another gentleman had been thrown from a sulky and had an ear severed as cleanly as if with a knife.

'No, I do not use any of the old materials; I make noses and ears of aluminum on account of the lightness of that material; they are then covered with muslin, which is afterward painted.

'Five times out of seven the loss of the nose is caused by abscess teeth (abscess centrals), which break just inside the nostrils; the disease then attacks the bone, which decays very rapidly. Sometimes a portion of it is saved, but this is the exception, and not the rule.

'It is possible to adjust a portion of a nose or ear with such nicety and have it painted so nearly to resemble the skin that covers other portions of the face that you might pass a person wearing such a dozen times a week on the street, and still not detect it. Of course, if you were told 'So-and-So' was wearing a false nose or ear, you would be looking for it, and probably discover the line of demarcation, but you would not always be successful, even then.

'There are dozens of people to be met with on the streets daily who are wearing some such appliance, and many of them have been doing so so long that they have almost forgotten the fact themselves.'

I supposed it was some lady friend who had come in and who did it to take me by surprise. I turned quickly about and saw Mrs. Ashley. "O, Annie," I cried, "what are you doing?" She made no answer, but reached down for the money drawer. I trid to stop her, but she hissed at me: "Clear out of the way." I was too frightened to move and sat rooted to my chair. With a quick move she took $22 out of the drawer. Then she stepped hurriedly down and ran to the side door, but when she found that it was locked, she rushed out of the front door, vanished. She left $1.50 and a check for $25 that were in the drawer. Mr. Hassett called the police, but they said that nothing could be done to her for taking the money. about the loss of the money. I did not hear her enter, or else I might have had Mr. Hassett prevent her from reaching the drawer."

OUTOROWTH OF FAMILY TROCHLES.

The scene of Monday was the outgrowth of family troubles. Mr. Ashley and his wife, nee Miss Annie Murphy, were married about four years ago and parted nine months since. Mr. Ashley make various charges against him before Judge Claiborne six weeks ago for wife abandonment. She then entered suit in the Circut Court for maintennance. These matters are now pending and it is probable that the delay in the last case led Mrs. Ashley was at home at 2715 Madison street when a reporter called to-day. She said it was true that she took the money. She needed it for the support of herself and her babe, as they were starving. She ciaims Mr. Ashley said he would see them starve

O'CONNELL'S BLUFF.

His Protest Against Burke's Contest Stultifles Him.

IT CONTRADICTS HIS OWN UTTERANCES MADE AFTER THE ELECTION.

Dodging Investigation on a Technicality After Stating That if Defeated by Only One Vote He Would Promptly Submit -Last Stand Against Exposure of Election Methods.

At the first regular meeting of the reorgan ized School Board, held at the Polytechnic Building last night, among other business considered by the board there was a letter from Director John W. O'Connell, read by Secretary Player.

The letter stated that Mr. O'Connell "had against his claim to a seat in the board. He cognizance of the case for the following

First, because sec. 9, article 6 of the Constitution of the State gave to the courts jurisdiction of all contests for official positions. Second, because the rules of the board required notice of contest to be served on the opposite party at least fifteen days before the next session of the board after the election.

Third, because the attempted service of the notice of the contest had been insufficient, and he, O'Connell, challenged the authority of the President of the School Board to refer his case to any committee for consideration.
Mr. O'Conneil's protest was referred to the attorney of the board, with instructions to report at the next meeting as to the jurisdicnotice and the sufficiency of the service.

A SIGNIFICANT CONTRAST.

This latest crafty effort of the desperate ex-Vice-President of the School Board to prevent an investigation of the election methods by which he is now enabled to claim re-election to be board in significant. More Cash for Mr. School.

An additional $1.50 which was left at. this cash was a second to see the season of the seas

The notice was necessarily served on his son, a service which in the opinion of good lawyers, was sufficient under the circumstances. Despite all these strange mishaps, assaults and disappearances, the Burke contest of O'Conneil's School Board seat has gotten before the School Board for action.
O'Conneil knows, evidently, that if the election in the Eighth District is investigated it will be found that Thos. I. Burke was elected from that district. That is why he will make every effort, however contemptible, to prevent the opening of the ballot boxes.

The fubercle bacilli was discovered by Prof. Koch, to be constantly present in all cases of consumption. Where the blood is impoverished or impure, there results that constitutional condition known as scrofula, which is characterized by the liability of certain tissues to become the seat of chronic inflammations and enlargements. Virchow says "their vulnerability is excessive." Consequently, exciting causes which would have only passing effect upon a healthy subject, would produce inflammation and disease in the scrofulous. These troubles may start as catarrh in the usual passages, throat or lungs, and as the membranes become weakened, the tubercle bacilli enter, and multiply, and we have, as a result, that dread disease—Consumption.

Special trains were run from the Union Depot to the stock yards every hour this forenoon and by 11 o'clock two or three thousand people were at the National Stock Yards taking in the show. The members of the kleception Committee were kept busy as were also the members of the other committees and the indees selected to make the awards. and the judges selected to make the awards. and the judges selected to make the awards. The General Committee of Arrangements consisted of Messrs. E. B. Overstreet, Samuel Scaling, W. L. Cassiday, A. T. Atwater, W. B. Menzie, Wm. Cassell, R. P. Lindsay, C. G. Knox, A. W. Morris, P. H. Southwest, sat down to a banquet tendered them by the Stock Exchange at the Allerton House. There were some 1,400 gentlemen present in all, making one of the largest banquets, in point of attendance at least, ever given in St. Louis. It was also a great feast, from an epicurian view of such things. Mr. H. M. Pollard was master of ceremonles and ably assisted Mr. R. H. Mann, President of the Exchange, and Mr. Samuel Scaling, Chairman of the Banquet Committee, in the management of the affair.

the Exchange, and Mr. Samuel Scaling, Chairman of the Banquet Committee, in the management of the affair.

BAD FEAR FOR STOCKMEN.

One of the prominent stockmen present was Mr. R. T. Kingsbury, president of the Concho Cattle Co. of Texas. Mr. Kingsbury's home is at Estille, Mo., but he spends a great deal of his time in Texas and particulary in Concho County, where the Concho Co.'s ranch is located. He thinks the present fat stock show will be of great benefit to the stock market here and also to stockmen generally. The past year has been a bad one for stockmen in his part of the country, he says, cattle selling even as low as $1 per head. A good many were sold at $2.50 a head. "In the spring prices were very good," he said this morning, "but this fail they have been lower than they ever were before. It has been very dry and I expect that a good many cattle will starve to death this winter. In some parts of the country the pastures are pretty fair yet, not having been eaten off as in many places, and if the cattle can get water, they will pull through all right, but where the country is destitute of water and grass, as is the case in a good many districts, there is very little show for the cattle, and I think winter will prove fatal to a good many cattle."

Mr. Kingsbury's ranch is about 250 miles southwest of Fort Worth.

Mr. J. R. Thomas of Mount Leona rd. Saline

Mr. Kingsbury's ranch is about 250 miles southwest of Fort Worth.

Mr. J. R. Thomas of Mount Leonard, Saline County, Mo., was very well satisfied with the show, In fact, he thought it a most creditable exhibition of fat stock, both as regards the number of cattle, sheep and hogs exhibited and also in regard to the quality of the stock. Mr. Thomson has done most of his shipping to Chicago heretofore, but the St. Louis market will most probably get a large percentage of his shipments hereafter. He is one of the largest stock feeders in Missouri. He takes a very hopeful view of the cattle market next spring.

Mr. T. McBaine of Columbia, Mo., talked pretty much as Mr. Thomas did. He is satisfied that prices will be better next year than they have been the past year. The opening of European markets to American pork sught to add considerable strength, he thinks, to the price of hogs, though he does not look for any big advance.

Mr. James Randolph of Marshall, Saline County, Mo., is one of the big stockmen at East St. Louis this afternoon. He shipped il,000 head of stock the past season.

C. D. Hudson, another Saline County stockmen, is here with exhibits of both cattle and sheep.

Mr. Leonard of Howard County, Mo., has a

Mr. Leonard of Howard County, Mo., has a fine exhibit of stock at the show.

Mr. Joseph Chenault of Raleigh, Ill., and Mr. E. M. Williams of Salisbury, Mo., have a room at the St. James. They came to the city to see the big hogs and cattle.

Most of the stock exhibited will be sold after the show.

The awards are all to be made to-day and the show closes this evening.

No less, than 1,000 people were on the grounds at 9 a.m. and by noon this number was doubled. grounds at 9a, m. and by noon this number was doubled.

No less than 750 hogs, 360 sheep, 616 native cattle and 528 Texas or Indian cattle were entered for the premiums. Most of the cattle entered for the premiums. Most of the cattle arrived yesterday afternoon and evening, and the receiving committees had their hands full for several hours.

At 8a. m. eleven judges, whose names, for obvious reasons, are not made public, began their rounds under, the guidance of Mr. P. H. Hall, publisher of the National Live Stock Reporter, who acted as general supervisor of the show. According to the regulations laid down for the award of premiums, the judges have time until 10 o'clock to night to make their announcements.

Mayor Stephens and all the city officials of East St. Louis were present at the banquet.

the best carload of fourteen native steers, $250; second best, $50. For the best car-load of 15 Texas or Indian steers, $2.50; second, $50. For the best car-load of 60 native wethers, $100; second, $25. For the best car-load of 50 hogs, $100; second, $25.

Both the stock exhibit and the banquet were arranged for by committees composed of members of the St. Louis Live Stock Exchange. To defray the expenses the members subscribed a total of $7,000, of which the greater part was expended for the banquet.

Cutcago III. Dec. 9.-President Hart of the Chicago League Club, in speaking of the proposed amalgamation of the League and Association on the twelve-club basis, said: "The twelve-club circuit is the most practicable, and it is without doubt the only scheme that will have a tendency to restore the game of base ball to its old favor and prestige. If the game is not reorganized on the lines as set out then the future prospect of the game is bad, both from an artistic and financial standpoint. I do not say this because there has been established in this city an opposition club, for in my opinion it would, with its Sunday games and other well-known Association customs, cater to an entirely different class of patronage and would in no way interfere with the attendance at our games."

The ATHLETICS SECURE GUMBERT.

President B. Wagner and Manager Billie Barnie of the Athletics of Philadelphia have captured another valuable player. They have signed Al Gumbert, who pitched for Anson's Chicago League team last season. Gumbert, besides being a splendid man in the box, was the hardest batter of any pitcher in the League. He will greatly strengthen the Athletics.

While living with her parents in Washington Florence Cooper, then a girl of not more than 15, attained notoriety by publicly horsewhipping United States Senator Ferry. Within a year afterward Florence married wm. Miller, a wealthy young Englishman. For years they lived happily together, but about four years ago her husband became shiftless, since which time she has been obliged to depend more or less on her relatives for support. Since her marriage Mrs. Miller has been a frequent visitor to Milwaukee and has always been received into the best of society. She was a regular attendant at church up to Sunday last. He registered at the hotel last Monday and remained in his room all day. Tuesday he was seen in the hall and when repeated knocks on the door failed to bring a response the door was forced open at 10 o'clock last night. He was found dying on the bed. Several physicians tried to save his life, but the large dose of morphine he had taken had taken hold of his system and he died at midnight. He left no letters or notes; but went about taking his life in a very deliberate manner as he sent for a glass of whisky and took the poison with it. His mother, Mrs. J. L. Charles B. McAfee, mentioned as a possible andidate for Governor, although a native of Kentucky, has lived in this State nearly all his life and was Gov. Phelps' law partner for several years. Capt. McAfee was a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1875, and until recently Assistant General Attorney of until recently Assistant General Attorney of the Kansas City, Springfield & Memphis Railroad. He is about 63 years old and retired. It has been authoritatively stated recently that ex-Congressman William J. Stone of Nevada will be in the race for Governor and his candidacy formally announced the coming week. Mr. Stone was born in Madison County, Kentucky, May 7, 1847; while not regularly in the service during the late war, being too young, was with the Seventh Kentucky Cavalry, C. S. A., a short time, came to Missouri in 1863, educated in local schools and at the Missouri State University, was admitted to the bar in 1867, elected Prosecuting Attorney of Vernon County in 1872 and 1874 and elected to Congress in 1884, 1886 and 1888. Mr. Stone, although a lawyer, is largely engaged in farming and cattle raising and is married.

The Glasgow Missourian concludes that inas-much as the tariff message of 1887 defeated much as the tariff message of 1887 defeated Cleveland, and as Congressman C. H. Man-sur claims to have originated that instru-ment, he will have to accept the odium of Harrison's election and the responsibility of the defeat of Cleveland in his contest for re-election in 1892.

pointed United States Revenue Collector in 1867, served in the City Council and as Mayor and also in the School Board. He was a class-mate of James G. Blaine at Washington College, Pennsylvania.

Mr. Edward Robb, Assistant Attorney-General, and a native of Perry County, is being urged in the race for Judge of the Circuit Court. The circuit is composed of Bollinger, Madison, Perry, St. Francois and Ste. Genevieve, and is strongly Democratic. Judge James D. Fox is the present Judge and will be a candidate for re-election.

The Joplin Heraid thinks the Springfield Leader is entirely "too fresh" in trying to push Capt. McAfee for Governor ahead of the many Southwest Missouri candidates for other State offices.

Senator S. P. Sparks, candidate for Attorney-General, says that the districting of the State into electoral districts in any other way than by the Legislature would be in violation of art. 3 of the Constitution, which in substance says that no power vested in one department of the Government, as in the Legislature in this case, can be conferred on or belong to any person or other department of the Government.

Judge John Hinton of Columbia, who died last week, aged 78 years, read law in St. Louis in 1840-1 in the office of Hon. Montgomery Blair. In 1872 he was elected Probate Judge of Boone County on the Democratic ticket and since then successively re-elected.

The Parls Mercury and the Rocheport Commercial disagree as to the loss of his arm by Frank Pitts, candidate for State Treasurer. The Commercial says he lost it in a cane mill. The Mercury is positive he lost it in the war, and at the battle of Franklin, Tenn.

The remarkable success of this zone tariff during the first able success of this zone tarin during the first ten months of its operation on the Govern-ment railway of Hungary is ample proof of its effectiveness and may lead to its adoption by other countries.

In these ten months the number of passengers increased from 3,555,600, the number for the preceding ten months under the old system, to 10,065,000, almost treble, and the receipts showed for the same period an in-crease over the corresponding one of above a million florins. These figures are an irrefutable argument for the merit of the system which Baross has the distinction of having introduced. A florin, the principal monetary unit of Austria-Hungary, is equivalent to 47 cents in United States money.

There is no reason why the system could not be advantageously employed in other great cities, such as New York, Chicago, St.

Mr. Thomas J. Delaney of Springfield, member of the Democratic State Committee, is likely to be the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Fyan district next year. Judge Fyan will not run again. The district is largely Republican when the party is united.

Col. James W. Black, who recently died at Richmond, Ray County, aged 63 years, filled several political offices in his lifetime. In 1852 he established the Richmond Heraid; was a member of the Legislature in 1864.5, appointed United States Revenue Collector in 1867, served in the City Council and as Mayor and also in the School Board. He was a linear with the methods of communication. The earlier and elementary part of his edu-

nication.

In his new office he undertook and carried through the reorganization of the State railways of Hungary and spent some of his redundant energy in inaugurating the postal savings banks with great success.

When, in 1886, Baron Gabriel Kemeny resigned the portfolio of Minister of Public Works, Gabriel Baross was forthwith elevated to the postion.

As Minister of Public Works, Baross united the postal and telegraph system. The philipidal of the postal and telegraph system. the postal and telegraph system. Since 1884 Baross has represented the city of Raab in Parliament. Amid the incessant demands on his energy, this man of action found time for work of a literary kind. He wrote a book on the government of counties in the United States and founded a newspaper, the Vavology Lapok, which he edited himself up to 1875. Baross is Privy Councillor to the King and is decorated with the Iron Cross of the first order.

Among other good works Baross constructed the circular railway which is so advantageous to the industrial establishments of Buda-Pesth; he incorporated the Western Railway; he set on foot banks for helping sick workmen; he founded an Industrial and Commercial Museum at Buda-Pesth, a permanent Exposition of Hungarian Industries with branches in Belgrade, Sophia and Constantinople; he started the Hungarian Steamship Co.; secured Sunday rest for the working beooble; zot up an electric railway in Buda-

Such is the record of the Hungarian Minister of Commerce, Gabrieal Gabor Baross. Intensely virile, energetic, masterful and largely philanthropic, his works tell his story abundantly well and his life offers encouragement as showing legitimate results in the shape of success and honor, which have flowed from a forceful nature regularly and steadfastly developed on the lines of its and steadfastly developed on the lines most dominant characteristics.

Oddly enough the owner of these pictures, who had paid to the owner of these pictures, who had paid to the owner of these pictures, who had paid to the owner of these pictures, who had paid to on them. He sent them from the auction room to the Pantechnicon, issuring them for what they had cost him. The building burned down before long, and he obtained full damages. The Italian dealer's trick is well known and widely used among Parisian dealers nowadays, with the difference that they use the thumbnail instead of a pin. THE MESSAGE, should perperate unjust dending them should perperate unjust dending perperate unju

On the 16th of October an event occurred in Valparaiso so serious and tragic in its circumstances and results as to very justly excite the indignation of our people and to call for prompt and decided action on the part of this Government. A considerable number of the sailors of the United States steamship Baltimore, then in the harbor of Valparaiso, being upon shore leave and unarmed, were assaulted by armed men nearly simultaneously in different localities in the city. One petty officer was killed outright and seven or eight seamen were seriously wounded, one of whom has since died. So savage and brutal was the assault that several of our sailors received more than two, and one as many as eight stab wounds. An investigation of the affair was promptly made by a board of officers of the Baltimore and their report shows that these assaults were unprovoked; that our men were conducting themselves in a peaceable and orderly manner, and that some of the police of the city took part in the assault and used their weapons with fatal effect, while a few others, with some well-disposed citizens, endeavored to protect our men. Thirty-six of our sailors were arrested and some of them while being taken to prison, were cruelly beaten and maltreated. The fact that they were all discharged, no criminal charge being lodged against any one of them, shows very clearly that they were innocent of any breach of the peace. So far as I have been able to learn no other explanation of this bloody work has been suggested than that it had its origin in hostility to these men as sailors of the United States, wearing the uniform offtheir Government ment and not in any individual act or personal animosity. The attention of the Chilian Government that might tend to relieve this affair of the appearance of an insult to this Government. The chiling Government was also advised that if such qualifying facts did not exist, this Government would confidently expect full and prompt reparation.

It is to be regretted that the reply of the Secretary fo

This Government has found occasion to express, in a friendly spirit, but with much earnestness, to the Government of the Czar its serious concern because of the harsh measures now being enforced against the Hebrews in Russia. By the revival of the anti-Semitic laws, long in abeyance, great numbers of those unfortunate people have been constreined to abandon their homes and leave the Empire by reason of the impossibility of finding subsistence within the pale to which it is sought to confine them. The immigration of these people to the United States, many other countries being closed to them, largely increasing was likely to assume proportions which make it difficult to find homes and employment for them here and to seriously affect the labor market. It is estimated that over one million will be forced from Russia within a few years. The Hebrew is never a beggar; he has always kept the law—life by toil—often under severe and oppressive civil restrictions. It is also true that no race, sect or class has more fully cared for its own than the Hebrew race. But the sudden transfer of such a multitude under conditions that tend to strip them of their small accumulations and to depress their energies and courage is neither good for them nor for us. The banishment, whether by direct decree or by not less certain indirect methods, of so large a number of men and women is not a local question. A decree to leave one country is in the nature of things an order to enter some other. This consideration, as well as the suggestions of humanity, furnishes ample ground for the remonstrances which we have presented to Russia, while our historic friendship for that government cannot fail to give the assurance that our representations are those of a sincere well-wisher.

The annual report of the Maritime Canal to. of Nicaragua shows that much costly and

Co. of Nicaragua shows that much costly and necessary preparatory work has been done during the year in the construction of shops, railroad tracks and harbor piers and breakwaters, and that the work of canal construction has made some progress.

I deem it to be a matter of highest concern to the United States that this canal, connecting the waters of the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans and giving to us a short water communication between our ports upon these two great seas, should be speedily constructed and at the smallest practical limit of cost. The gain in freights to the people and the direct saying to the Government of the United States in the use of its naval vessels would pay the entire cost of this work within a short series of years. The report of the Secretary of the Navy shows the saying in our naval expenditures which would result. The Senator from Alabama (Mr. Morgan), in his argument upon this subject before the Senate at the last session, did not overestimate the importance of this work when he said that "The canal is the most important subject now connected with the commercial growth and progress of the United States." If this work is to be promoted by the usual financial methods and without the aid of this Government the expenditures, in its interest-bearing securities and stocks, will prob-

The work of securing sites for shore batteries for harbor defense and the manufacture of mortars and guns of high power to equip them have made good progress during the year. The preliminary work of tests and plans, which so long delayed a start, is now out of the way. Some guns have been completed, and with an enlarged shop and a more complete equipment at Watervliet the army will soon be abreast of the navy in zun construction. Whatever unavoidable causes of delay may arise, there should be none from delayed or insufficient appropriations. We shall be greatly embarrassed in the proper distribution and use of naval vessels until adequate shore defenses are provided for our harbors.

Whatever unavoidable causes of delay may arise, there should be none from delayed or insufficient appropriations. We shall be greatly embarrassed in the proper distribution and use of naval vessels until adequate shore defenses are provided for our harbors.

I concur in the recommendation of the Secretary that the three battailon organizations be adopted for the infantry. The adoption of a smokeless powder and of a modern rifle equal in range, precision and rapidity of fire to the best known use will, I hope, not be longer delayed.

The project of enlisting Indians and organizing them into separate companies upon the same basis as other soldiers was made the subject of a very careful study by the Secretary and received my approval. Seven companies have been completely organized, and seven more are in process of organization. The results of six months' training have more than realized the highest anticipations. The men are readily brought under discipline, acquire the drill with facility and show great pride in the right discharge of their duties and perfect loyalty to their officers, who declare that they would take them into action with confidence. The discipline, order and cleanliness of the military posts will have a wholesome and elevating influence upon the men enlisted, and through them upon their tribes, while a more friendly feeling for the whites and a greater respect for the Government will certainly be promoted. The great work done in the Record and Pension Division of the War Department by Maj. Answorth of the Medical Corps and the clerks under him is entitled to honorable mention. Taking up the work with hearly 41,000 cases behind, he closed the last fiscal year without a single case left over, though the new cases had increased 52 per cent in number over the previous year by reason of the pension legislation of the last Congress.

OF JUSTICE, torney General that the right in felony cases to a review by the Supreme Court be limited. It would seem that personal liberty would have a safe guarantee of the right of review in cases involving only fines and imprisonment were limited to the Circuit Court of Appeals unless a constitutional question should in some way be involved. The judges of the court of private land claims provided for by the act of March 3, 1591, have been appointed and the court organized. It is now possible to give early relief to communities long repressed in their development by unsettled land the court development by unsettled land the court organized.

The enforcement by the Treasury Department of the law prohibiting the coming of Chinese to the United States has been ef-country from which he came, notwithstanding the fact that he come by the way of Canada; but several of the district courts have in cases brought before them overruled this view of the law, and decided that such persons must be returned to Canada.

This construction robs the laws of all effectiveness, even if the decrees could be executed for the men returned can the next day recross our border. But the only appropriation made is for sending them back to china, and the Canadian officials refuse to allow them to re-enter Canada without the payment of the $50 head-tax. I recommend such legislation as will remedy these defects in the law.

FEDERAL COURTS' JURISDICTION. In previous messages 1 have called the at-tention of Congress to the necessity of so ex-tention of Congress to the necessity of so extending the jurisdiction of the United States Courts as to make triable therein any felony committed while in the act of violating a law of the United States. These courts cannot have that independence and effectiveness which the constitution contemplates so long as the felonious killing of high court officers, juries and witnesses in the discharge of their duties, or by reason of their acts as such, is only recognizable in the State Courts. The work done by the Attorney-General and the officers of his department, even under the present inadequate legislation, has produced some notable results in the interest of law and order.

The Attorney-General and also the commissioners of the District of Columbia call* considerable rent for a box in which to place it or to wait his turn at a general delivery window, while the city resident has his mall brought to his door. It is stated that over 54,000 neighborhoods are, under the present system, receiving mail at post-offices where money orders and postal notes are not issued. The extension of this system to these communities is especially desirable, as the patrons of such offices are not possessed of the other facilities offered in more populous communities for the transmission of small sums of money. of money.

I have in a message to the preceding Congress expressed my views as to a modified use of the telegraph in connection with the postal service.

In pursuance of the ocean mail law March 3, 1891, and after a most careful study of the whole subject and frequent confercouragement or for any turning back from the policy of this legislation. Indeed, a good beginning has been made and, as the subject is further considered and understood by capitalists and shipping people, new lines will be ready to meet future proposals, and we may date from the passage of this law the revival of American shipping interests and the recovery of a fair share of the carrying trade of the world. We were receiving for foreign postage nearly two millions of dollars under

When it is recollected that the work of building a modern navy was only initiated in the year 1883, that our naval constructors and the year 1883, that our naval constructors and ship-builders were practically without experience in the construction of large fron or steel ships, that our engine shops were unfamiliar with great marine engines, and that the manufacture of steel forgings for guns and plates was almost whoily a foreign industry, the progress that has been made is not only highly satisfactory but furnishes the assurance that the United States will before long attain, in the construction of such vessels, with these engines and arguments the same pre-aminance. Mexico.

The officers of the Treasury Department and of the Department of Justice have used every means at their command to intercept this immigration; but the impossibility of perfectly guarding our extended frontier is apparent. The Dominion Government collects a head tax of $50 from every Chinaman entering Canada, and thus derives a considerable revenue from those who only use its ports to reach a position of advantage to evade our exclusion laws. There seems to be satisfactory evidence that the business of passing Chinamen through Canada to the United States is not such vessels, with these engines and armaments the same pre-eminence which it attained when the best instrument of cocean commerce was the clipper ship and the most impressive exhibit of naval power the old wooden three-decker man-of-war. The officers of the navy and the most impressive exhibit of naval power the old wooden three-decker man-of-war. The officers of the navy and the most impressive exhibit of naval power the old wooden three-decker man-of-war. The officers of the navy and engineers of our great private ships have responded with wonderful intelligence and professional zeal to the confidence expressed by Congress in its liberal legislation. We have now at Washington a gun shop, or anized and conducted by naval officers, that in its system, economy and product is unexcelled; experiments with armor plate have been conducted during the year with most important results. It is now believed that a plate of higher resisting power than any in use has been found and that the tests have demonstrated that cheaper methods of manufacture than those heretofore thought necessary can be used. I commend to your favorable consideration the recommendations of the Secretary, who has, I am sure, given to them the most conscientious study. There should be no hesitation in promptly completing a navy of the best modern type, large enough to enable this country to display its flag in all seas, for the projection of its citizens and of its extending commerce. The world needs no assurance of the peaceful purposes of the United States, but we shall probably be in the future more largely competitors in the commerce of the world, and it is essential to the dignity of this nation and to that peace. he dignity of this nation and to that peace all influence which it should exercise on this emisphere that its navy should be adequate, oth upon the shores of the Atlantic and of he Pacific. plaints, especially in the matter of the reduction of the appropriations for rations and in the delays attending the enactment of laws to enable the department to perform the ergagement entered into with them, is probably true; but the Sioux tribes are naturally warlike and turbulent, and their warriors were excited by their medicine men and chiefs, who preached the coming of an Indian Messiah who was to give them power to destroy their enemies. In view of the alarm that prevailed among the white settlers near the reservation and of the fatal consequences that would have resulted from an Indian incursion I placed at the disposal of Sen. Miles, Commanding the Division of the Missouri, all such forces as were thought by him to be required. He is entitled to the credit of having given thorough protection to the settlers and of bringing the hostiles into subjection with the least possible loss of life.

The appropriation of $2,991,450 for the Choctaws and Chickasaws, contained in the general Indian appropriation bill of March 3, 1891, has not been expended, for the reason that I have not yet approved a release to the government of the indian claim to the lands mentioned. This matter will be made the subject of a special message, placing before Congress all the lacts which have come to my knowledge.

TRIBES IN THE TERRITORY. The relations of the five civilized tribes now occupying the Indian Territory to the United States is not, I believe, that best calculated to promote the highest advancement of these Indians. That there should be within our borders five independent States having no relations except those growing out of treaties with the government of the United States, no representation in the nation's legislature. Its people not citizens is a startling anomaly. It seems to me to be inevitable that there shall be before long some organic changes in the relation of these people to the United States. What form these changes should take I do not think it desirable now to suggest, even if they were well defined in my own mind. They should certainly involve the acceptance of citizenship by the Indians and representation in Congress. These Indians should have opportunity to present their claims and grievances upon the ficor rather than as now in the lobby. If a commission could be appointed to visit these tribes to confer with them in a friendly spirit upon the whole subject, even if no agreement were presently reached, the feeling of the tribes upon this question would be developed and discussion would prepare the way for changes which must come sooner or later.

The good work of reducing the larger In-The good work of reducing the larger Indian reservations by allotments in severally to the Indians and the cession of the remaining lands to the United States for disposition under the homestead law has been prosecuted during the year with energy and success. In September last I was enabled to open to settlement, in the Territory of Oklahoma, 900,000 acres of land, all of which was taken up by settlers in a single day. The rush for these lands was accompanied by a great deal of excitement, but was happily free from incidents of violence.

lands was accompanied by a great deal of excitement, but was happily free from incident of violence.

It was a source of great regret that I was not able to open at the same time the surplus lands of the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Reservation, amounting to 3,000,000 acres, by reason of the insufficiency of the appropriation for making the allotments. Deserving and impatient settlers are waiting to occupy these lands, and I urgently recommend that a special deficiency appropriation be promptly made of the small amount needed, so that the allotments may be completed and the lands opened in time to permit the settlers to get upon their homesteads in the early spring.

commission have completed arrangements with the Wichita, Kickapoo, and Tonkawa tribes, whereby, if the agreements are ratified by Congress, over 800,000 additional acres will be opened to settlement in Oklahoma. The negotiation for the release by the Cherokees of this claim to the Cherokees of this claim to the Cherokees of this claim to the Cherokees trip has made no substantial progress so far as the department is officially advised, but it is still hoped that the cession of this large and valuable tract may be secured. The price which the commission was authorized to offer—$1.25. per acre—is, in my judgment, when all the circumstances as to title and to character of the lands are considered, a fair and adequate one and should have been accepted by the Indians.

Since March 4, 1889, about 23,000,000 acres have been separated from Indian reservations and added to the public domain, for the use of those who desired to secure free homes under our beneficent laws. It is difficult to estimate the increase of wealth which will result from the conversion of these vast lands into farms, but it is more difficult to estimate the betterment which will result to the families that have found renewed hope and courage in the ownership of a home and the assurance of a comfortable subsistence under free and healthful conditions. It is also gratifying to be able to feel, as we may, that this work has proceeded upon lines of justice toward the Indian, and that he may now, if he will, secure to himself the good influence of a settled habitation, the Early in this administration a special effort was begun to bring up the work of the general land office. By faithful work the arrearages have been rapidly reduced. At the end of the last fiscal year only $4,172 final agricultural entries remained undisposed of, and the Commissioner reports that with the present force the work can be fully brought up by the end of the next fiscal year.

Your attention is called to the difficulty presented by the Secretary of the Interior as to the administration of the law of March 3, 1891, establishing a court of private land claims. The small holdings intended to be protected by the law are estimated to be more than 15,000 in number. The claimants are a most deserving class and their titles are supported by the strongest equities. The difficulty grows out of the fact that the lands have largely been surveyed according to our methods, while the holdings, many of which have been in the same family for generations, are laid out in narrow strips a few rods wide upon a stream and running back to the hills for pasturage and timber. Provision should be made for numbering these tracts as lots and for patenting them by such numbers and policy for dealing with this debt, with a view to its ultimate collection, should be at once adopted. It is very difficult, well nigh impossible, for so large a body as the Congress to conduct necessary negotiations and investigations. I therefore recommend that provision be made for the appointment of a commission to agree upon and report a plan for dealing with this debt.

The work of the Census Bureau is now far in advance, and the great bulk of the enormous labor involved completed. It will be more strictly a statistical exhibit and less encumbered by essays than its immediate predecessors. The methods pursued have been fair, careful and intelligent and have secured the approval of the statisticians, who have followed them with a scientific and non-partisan interest. The appropriations necessary to the early completion and publication of the authorized volumes should be given in time to secure against delays, which increase the cost and at the same time diminish the value of the work.

IRRIGATION IN THE WEST. The report of the Secretary exhibits with interesting fullness the condition of the ter-ritories. They have shared with the States Interesting fuliness the condition of the territories. They have shared with the States the great increase in farm products and are brinking yearly large areas into cultivation by extending their irrigating canals. This work is being done by individuals or local corporations and without a full preliminary survey of the water supply and of the irrigable lands, which would enable them to assure the future of the Territories or New Mexico, Arizona and Utah in their material growth and in the increase, independence and happiness of their people; this is very largely dependent upon wise and timely legislation, either by Congress or their own Legislatures, regulating the distribution of the water supply furnished by their streams. If this matter is much longer neglected, private corporations will have unrestricted control of one of the elements of life and the patentees of the arid lands will be tenants at will of the water companies.

The United States should part with its ownership of the water sources and the sites for reservoirs, whether to the States and territories or to individuals or corporations, only upon conditions that will insure to the settlers their proper water supply upon equal and reasonable terms. In the territories this whole subject is under the full control of Congress and in the States it is practically so as long as the government holds the title to the reservoir sites and water sources and can get them upon such conditions as it chooses to impose, the granting of franchises of enor-

The granting of franchises of enor-mous value, without recompense to the State or municipality from which they proceeded and without proper protection of the public interests, is the most noticeable and fla-grant evil. of modern legislation. This fault should not be committed in dealing with a subject that will before many years affect so vitally thousands of our people.

THE MORMON QUESTION. The legislation of Congress for the repression of polygamy has, after years of resistance on the part of the Mormons, at least brought them to the conclusion that resistance is unprofitable and unavailing. The power of Congress over this subject should not be surrendered until we have satisfactory evidence that the people of the State to be created would exercise the exclusive power of the State over this subject in the same way. The question is not whether these people now obey the law of Congress against polygamy, but rather would they make, enforce and maintain such laws themselves if absolutely free to regulate the subject? We cannot afford to experiment with this subject, for when a State is once constituted the act is final and any mistake irretrievable. No compact in the enabling act could, in my opinion, be binding or effective.

I recommend that provision be made for the organization of a simple form of town government in Alaska, with a power to regulate such matters as are usually in the States under municipal control. These local civil organizations will give better protection in such matters than the present skeleton territorial organization. Proper restrictions as to the power to levy taxes and to create debts should be imposed.

If the establisment of the Department of OF AGRICULTURE. Agriculture was re DEPARTMENT. garded by any one as a mere concession to the un-enlightened demand of a worthy class of people, that impression has been most effectually removed by the great results aleffectually removed by the great results already attained. Its home influence has been very great in disseminating agricultural and horticultural information; stimulating and directing a further diversification of crops; in detecting and eradicating diseases of domestic animals, and more than ail, in the close and information contact which it has established and maintains with the farmers and stock raisers of the whole country. Every request for information has had prompt attention and every attention and every suggestion merited consideration. The scientific corps of the department is of a high order and is pushing its investigation with gestion merited consideration. In tific corps of the department is o order and is pushing its investigati-method and enthusiasm.

RESULTS OF INSPECTION. The inspection by this department of cattle and pork products intended for shipment abroad has been the basis of the success which has attended our efforts to secure the removal of the restrictions maintained by the European governments. For ten years protests and petitions upon this subject from the packers and stock raisers of the United States have been directed against these restrictions, which so seriously limited our markets and curtailed the profits of the farm. It is a source of general congratulation that success has at last been attained, for the effects of an enlarged foreign market for these meats will be felt, not only by the farmer but in our public finances and in every branch of trade. It is particularly fortunate that the increased demand for food products resulting from the removal of the restrictions upon our meats and from the reciprocal trade arrangements to which I have referred should have come at a time when the agricultural surplus is so large. Without the help thus derived lower prices would have prevailed. The Secretary of Agriculture estimates that the restrictions upon the importation of our pork products into Europe lost us a market for $20,000,000 worth of these products annually. abroad has been the basis of the success

GRAIN AND OTHER CROPS. The grain crop of this year was the largest in our history, 50 per cent greater than that of last year, and markets have been opened, and the larger demand resulting from short crops in Europe, have sustained prices to such an extent that the enormous surplus of meats and breadstuffs will be marketed at good prices, bringing relief and prosperity to an industry that was much depressed. The value of the grain crop of the United States is estimated by the Secretary to be this year $500,000,000 more than last, of meats $50,000,000 more and of all products of the farm $700,000,000 more and of all products of the farm $700,000,000 more and of the contemporation in the contemplation of this marvelous addition to the national wealth is unclouded by any suspicion of the currency by which it is measured and in which the farmer is paid for the product of his fields. and the larger demand resulting from short

The Commission invites a personal inspection by Senators and Representatives of its records and methods, and every fair critic will feel that such an examination should precede a judgment of condemnation, either of the system or its administration.

It is not claimed that either is perfect, but I believe that the law is being executed with impartiality, and that the system is incomparably better and fairer than that of appointments upon favor. I have, during the year, extended the classified service to include superintendents, teachers, matrons and physicians in the indian service. This branch of the service is largely related to educational and philanthropic work and will obviously be the better for the change.

The heads of the several executive departments have been directed to establish at once an inemiciency record as the basis of a comparative rating and the clerks within the classified service with a view to placing promotions therein upon the basis of merit. I am confident that such a record, fairly kept and open to the inspection of those interested, will powerfully stimulate the work of the departments, and will be accepted by all as placing the troublesome matter of promotions upon a just basis. I recommend that the appropriations for the Civil Service Commission be made adequate to the increased work of the next fiscal year. that the appropriations for the Civil Service Commission be made adequate to the increased work of the next fiscal year.

I have twice before urgently called the attention of Congress to the necessity of legislation for the protection of the lives of railroad employes, but nothing has yet been tracted renewed interest by reason of a departure by the State of Michigan from the method which had become uniform in all the States. Prior to 1832 various methods had been used by the different States and even by the same State. In some the choice was made by the Legislature; in others electors were the used by the Mistricts, but more generally by the vot's of the whole State upon a general ticket. The movement towards the adoption of the last named method had an early beginning and went steadily forward among the States, until in 1832 there remained but a single State, South Carolina, that had not adopted it. That State, until the civil war, continued to choose its electors by vote of the Legislature, but after the war changed its method and confirmed to the practice of the other States. For nearly sixty years all the States save one have appointed their electors by a popular vote upon a general itcket, and for nearly thirty years this method was universal. After a full test of other methods, without important division or dissent in any State and without any purpose of party advantage, as we hust believe, but solely upon the considerations that uniformity was desirable and thata general election in territorial divisions not subject to change was most consistent with the popular character of our institutions, best preserved the equality of the voters and perfectly removed the choice of President from the baneful influence of the "gerrymander" and the practice of all the States was brought into harmony.

That this concurrence should now be broken is, I think, an unfortunate and even and the practice of all the States was brought into harmony.

That this concurrence should now be broken is, I think, an unfortunate and even a threatening episode, and one that may well suggest whether the States that still give their approval to the old prevailing method ought not to secure, by constitutional amendment, a practice which has had the approval of all.

EVILS OF THE GERRYMANDERS. recent Michigan legislation provides given by the same instrument to the Legislatures of such a Government are the right of the people to choose their own officers, and the nearest practicable equality of value in the suffrages given in determining that choice. It will not be claimed that the power given to the Legislature would support it, providing that persons receiving the smallest vote should be the electors, or a law that all electors should be chosen by the voters of a single Congressional district. The State is to choose and under the pretense of regulating methods the Legislature can neither vest the right of choice elsewhere nor adopt methods not conformable to republican institutions. It is not my purpose here to discuss the question whether a choice by the Legislature or by the the voters of equal single districts is a choice by the State, but only to recommend such regulation of this matter by constitutional amendment as will secure uniformity and prevent that disgraceful partisan judgment which such a liberty of choice if it exists offers a temptation.

A NATIONAL MENACE.

A NATIONAL MENACE. Nothing just now is more important than to provide every guaranty for the absolutely to provide every guaranty for the absolutely fair and free choice by an equal suffrage within the respective States of all the officers of the National Government, whether that suffrage is applied directly, as in the choice of members of the House of Representatives, or indirectly as in the choice of Senators and electors of President. Respect for public officers and obedience to law will not cease to be the characteristics of our people until our elections cease to declare the will of majorities fairly ascertained without fraud, suppression or gerrymander. If I were called upon to declare wherein our chief national danger lies I should say without hesitation, in the overthrow of majority control by the suppression or perversion of the popular suffrage.

That there is a real danger here all must agree. But the forces of those who see it have been chiefly expended in trying to fix responsibility upon the opposite party rather than in efforts to make such practices impossible by either party.

It have been chiefly expended in trying to fix y responsibility upon the opposite party rather than in efforts to make such practices impossible by either party.

It is not possible now to adjourn that interminable and inconclusive debate while we take, by consent, one step in the direction of reform by eliminating the gerrymander which has been deplored by all parties as an influence in the election of electors of President and members of Congress?

All the States have, acting freely and separately, determined that the choice of electors by a general ticket is the wisest and safest method and it would seem there could be no objection to a constitutional amendment making that method permanent. If a Legislature, chosen in one year upon purely local questions, should, pending a presidential contest, meet, rescind the law for a choice upon a general ticket and provide for the choice of electors by the Legislature, and this trick should determine the result, it is not too much to say that the public peace might be seriously and widely endangered. I have alluded to the "gerrymander" as affecting the method of selecting electors of President by Congressional districts, but the primary instendance of the constitution of reform will be found in a willingness to confer as to remedies and to put into force such measures as will most effectually preserve the right of the people to free and equal representation. An attempt was made in the last Congress to bring to bear the constitutional powers of the general government for the correction of frauds against the suffrage. It is important to know whether the opposition to such measures is really vested in particular features, supposed to be objectionable, or includes any proposition to give to the election laws of the United States adequacy to the correction of grave and acknowledged evils. I must yet entertain the hope that it is possible to secure a calm, particulor consideration of such constitutional or statutory changes as may be necessary to secure the choice of the off

How the Illinois Streams Are Emptied of Fish by Seiners and Dynamiters-Steps Taken to Punish the Poachers-Great Destruction Caused by Them - A Change in the Law Recommended.

HALSBORO, Ill., Dec. 9 .- While the farmer is in favor of amending the game law so as to prevent the killing of quall at any season of the year, the same can scarcely be said of the sportsmen in the city. But the latter are almost unanimously in favor of an amendment to the law as it at present exists in reference to these birds. The open season for quail commences the first of October and closes the arst of December. While two months in the year is sufficient length of time for an open season, hunters generally are of the opinion that the two should be the months of November and December. Their principal reason given as to why the change should s that quall are than half grown during October and it is a shame and slaughter to shoot them. It is also claimed that October weather is so warm that hunting is en uncomfortable sport to indulge in, and also that it is a month when business men have but little time in which to amuse themselves in this way. With this exception, the framed as it is possible to frame a law of this kind, and what is better, it is pretty generally obeyed by the people of the State. A Chamber of Horrors.

The apartment to which the unhappy wretch is confined by inflammatory rheumatism is indeed a chamber of horrors. Appalling are the tortures inflicted by this agonizing complaint, and those endured by persons suffering from milder forms of it are severe enough. Obstinate as it is in its mature development it is surely remediable at the outset with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an in-finitely safer as well as more effective remedy than the poisons often used to subdue it. Always should it be borne in mind by those seeking relief from rheumatism that though conquerable in the incipient stage it is not only stabborn but dangerous when fully developed on account of its tend ency to attack the vital parts. This consideration should lead to the early adoption of curative measures. The Bitters will overcome malarial, kidney, dyspeptic and billous trouble.

nge POND'S EXTRACT

WHAT THE DOCTOR SAYS: A PROMINENT NEW YORK PHY-SICIAN SAYS:

> "There is nothing better to relieve the PAIN and ITCHING, and CAUSE RETRACTION of PILES, than POND'S EXTRACT and POND'S EXTRACT OINTMENT. Either the fluid or the ointment has the astringent and soothing effect required, and is a very useful preparation. In fact for this purpose they are best used together."

WHAT THE PATIENT SAYS:

"For 40 years I have been an in-describable sufferer with the PILES. Every known remedy I have tried, all of which had a tendency to alleviate, not cure. First attacked with BLIND PILES, which annoyed me for years; BLEEDING PILES followed, which frequently confined me to the bed, leaving me unfit for business. Within a few days they have attacked me in full force, and that most excruciating of the hemorrhoid family, the ITCHING PILES, superseded both. Having become pos-sessed of some PONO'S EXTRACT, I applied it freely, undiluted. Had Heaven and Earth come together I would not have been more surprised. I neve dreamed of a cure. Three times only have I resorted to POND'S EXTRACT, and the ITCHING PILES vanished as if by magic. I am fully convinced that it is the only known remedy in the wide world for the ITCHING PILES. My statement is unsolicited." - THOMAS S. MURPHY, Ojmstedville, N. Y
